“Elvis Attends His Birthday Party at Arthritis Center!”

The “King”, Elvis Presley, is alive and well! With the strains of “Jailhouse Rock” and “Kentucky Rain” playing in the background, he made a grand entrance at a birthday party in his honor at the Arthritis and Osteoporosis Center of Maryland on January 8, 2007.

“Yes... it’s true, Elvis was here. We had a terrific party for him. We played his songs all day. And we also had an enormous cake,” Michelle Grimm announced.

“It was a great honor to have the King here,” concluded Ms. Grimm.

Elvis Aaron Presley was born on January 8, 1935 in Tupelo, Mississippi on. He is credited as the driving force behind the crossover of black rhythm and blues to mainstream white America, “challenging social and racial barriers of the time.” Elvis had 149 records that were on the Billboard Top 100 and 18 number one hits. Among his hit singles were Hound Dog, Heartbreak Hotel, Love Me Tender, Jailhouse Rock, and Kentucky Rain.

Michelle Grimm is the Administrative Assistant to the Director of Research at the Arthritis and Osteoporosis Center of Maryland.
